PARTIES

3. Plaintiff Adan Cerrillo-Hernandez is a native and citizen of Mexico. He has resided in the United States as a lawful permanent resident ("LPR") since December 01, 1990.
4. Defendant Michael Chertoff, Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security, is named in this complaint in his official capacity only. He is generally charged with enforcement of the Immigration and Nationality Act and is further authorized to delegate such powers and authority to subordinate employees of the Department of Homeland Security.<sup>3</sup> Specifically, the Secretary of Homeland Security is responsible for the adjudication of Applications for Naturalization filed under section 316 of the Act.<sup>4</sup> Citizenship and Immigration Services (the "Service") is the agency within the Department of Homeland Security to whom the Secretary's authority has, in part, been delegated and is subject to the Secretary's supervision.
5. Defendant Angela Barrows is the Director of the Dallas District Office of the Service. As the District Director, she is generally charged with supervisory authority over all operations of the Service within her District.<sup>5</sup> She is named in this complaint in her official capacity only. Defendant District Director is the official who has denied Plaintiff's Application for Naturalization.

VENUE

6. Venue is proper in the Northern District of Texas, in accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e), in that this is an action against officers and agencies of the United States in their official capacities, brought in the District where a Defendant resides and where a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to Plaintiff's claim occurred.

EXHAUSTION OF REMEDIES

7. Plaintiff has exhausted all of his administrative remedies. Through counsel, Plaintiff has administratively appealed the Service's original denial of his Application for Naturalization, in accordance with section 336 of the Act.<sup>6</sup>

CAUSE OF ACTION

8. Plaintiff has been a lawful permanent resident since December 01, 1990. Fourteen years after becoming a permanent resident, on January 15, 2004, Plaintiff was arrested and later convicted<sup>7</sup> in Athens, Texas for a violation of section 101.31 of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Code.<sup>8</sup> Section 101.31(a) states that "no person in a dry area may manufacture, distill, brew, sell, import into the state, export from the state, transport, distribute, warehouse, store, solicit or take orders for, or possess with intent to sell an alcoholic beverage."<sup>9</sup> A violation of this section is a class B misdemeanor.<sup>10</sup> No special intent or purpose is required to be found guilty under this section.<sup>11</sup>
9. Subsequently, Plaintiff was arrested for possessing alcohol in a dry area and charged with prima facie evidence of intent to sell, in violation of section 101.32 of the Texas

Alcoholic Beverage Code.<sup>12</sup> Plaintiff was found guilty of this charge on August 31, 2004, ordered to pay a fine and spend one day in jail.<sup>13</sup>

10. On June 24, 2004, Plaintiff submitted his Application for Naturalization and later attended an interview with the Service on August 01, 2006.<sup>14</sup> During his interview, the District Adjudications Officer asked Plaintiff about his arrest record, and Plaintiff disclosed his prior arrests. In response, the officer issued a Request for Evidence, requesting the arrest records and disposition documents for the 2004 incidents.<sup>15</sup> On January 31, 2007, the Service issued a decision (the "Decision") denying Plaintiff's application for failure to demonstrate good moral character during the statutory period because of the two 2004 convictions.<sup>16</sup> The Decision stated that Plaintiff's conduct did not represent the actions of the average citizen in the community.<sup>17</sup>
11. Plaintiff filed a timely administrative appeal of the denial of his Application for Naturalization, in accordance with section 336 of the Act.<sup>18</sup> The Service interviewed Plaintiff in connection with the administrative appeal on July 24, 2007.<sup>19</sup> On August 09, 2007, the Dallas District Director denied the appeal.<sup>20</sup> The Service's denial again stated that Plaintiff's criminal record within the statutory period did not represent the conduct of an average citizen in the community.<sup>21</sup>

12. Plaintiff was and remains eligible for naturalization because at the time of filing his Application for Naturalization:

- (a) Plaintiff had been lawfully admitted to permanent residence, had resided in the United States for more than the requisite five years, and had met the physical presence requirements for naturalization;
- (b) Plaintiff is of good moral character during the period for which good moral character is required, i.e., five years preceding the filing of the Application, and is firmly attached to the principles of the United States Constitution; and,
- (c) The grounds asserted by the Service in support of its denial—that Plaintiff's regulatory offenses show a lack of good moral character—are without foundation.

13. During the statutorily prescribed period, Plaintiff has certainly satisfied the requirement of good moral character. While Plaintiff's criminal convictions occurred within the statutory period, these particular offenses do not fall within the enumerated class of offenses that require a finding of a lack of good moral character.<sup>22</sup> Moreover, these incidents do not fall below the standards of the average citizen in the community of residence.

14. Plaintiff's criminal citations are regulatory violations only and have not been found by the Board of Immigration Appeals (the "Board") or any other immigration authorities to constitute crimes involving moral turpitude.<sup>23</sup> Specifically, the Board has adopted the approach used by the Ninth Circuit, finding that mere regulatory violations in and of themselves do not support a finding that the crime involves moral turpitude.<sup>24</sup>
15. Accordingly, these acts alone, for instance, would not render an applicant for United States residency inadmissible to the United States. This statutory scheme exists because inadmissibility of an alien is important where the conduct is "inherently base, vile, or depraved, and contrary to accepted rules of morality and the duties owed between persons or to society in general . . . ."<sup>25</sup> As such, a conviction for possessing alcohol in a dry area or other similar regulatory offense is hardly inherently base or vile conduct. In drawing this parallel, such conduct does not suggest that a person lacks good moral character.
16. Although the Decision states that Plaintiff's actions are not representative of the average citizen in the community, other courts hold otherwise. A California court has held that an applicant convicted for a felony violation of the California Alcoholic Beverage Control Act within the statutory period is nonetheless eligible for naturalization.<sup>26</sup> In coming to <sup>23</sup> See, e.g., U.S. v. Smith, 420 F.2d 428 (5th Cir. 1970); Coykendall v. Skrmetta, 22 F.2d 120 (5th Cir. 1927); Matter of G, 7 I&N Dec. 114 (B.I.A. 1956); Matter of J, 2 I&N Dec. 99 (B.I.A. 1944); Matter of H, 1 I&N Dec. 394 (B.I.A. 1943); U.S. ex rel Berlandi v. Reimer, 113 F.2d 429 (2d Cir. 1940); Iorio v. Day, 34 F.2d 920 (2d Cir. 1929).

<sup>24</sup> See L-V-C-, 22 I&N Dec. 594, 603-04 (B.I.A. 1999) (holding that not all violations of regulatory provisions are "inevitably nefarious, inherently fraudulent, or damaging . . ."). See also Rodriguez v. Campbell, 8 F.2d 983, 984 (5th Cir. 1925) (holding that merely entering or re-entering the United States after being deported does not involve moral turpitude); Matter of Gaglioti, 10 I&N Dec. 719 (B.I.A. 1964) (holding that a conviction for conspiring to establish gaming devices does not involve moral turpitude because the conduct is not inherently base, vile or depraved).

this conclusion, the court stated that the applicant's "violation was not a vicious one or one which necessarily involved moral turpitude; it was purely a statutory crime."<sup>27</sup> Similarly, Plaintiff's criminal convictions are purely statutory crimes and do not reflect adversely upon his moral character.

17. On each occasion for which Plaintiff was cited in 2004, he had in his possession small quantities of alcohol. Admittedly, this was in violation of the prohibition laws in effect in Henderson County, Texas. At the same time, however, storing or possessing alcohol is not indicative of a lack of good moral character. Without a doubt, Plaintiff's actions do not fall below the standards of the average citizen.
18. The record reflects that Plaintiff is now, and has during the statutory period, been a person of good moral character:
  - (a) Since becoming a lawful permanent resident seventeen years ago, Plaintiff has had no criminal convictions apart from the two 2004 convictions.
  - (b) Plaintiff has never committed or been charged with any offenses involving violence, threats of violence, controlled substances, or theft. In short, his only criminal offenses involve the two 2004 regulatory offenses.
  - (c) Plaintiff has filed truthful income tax returns for each year he was required to do so; and
  - (d) Many members of the community have attested to Plaintiff's good character, favorable reputation, and positive contributions to the community.<sup>28</sup>

19. Plaintiff's deep and numerous roots in the United States reflect his attachment to the United States and his positive disposition toward the good order and happiness of the United States as required by section 316(a) of the Act:<sup>29</sup>

- (a) Plaintiff is a stable, family man;
- (b) Plaintiff and his wife had eleven children together before his wife's death. All of Plaintiff's children reside in the United States lawfully; and
- (c) Plaintiff has lawfully resided in the United States since becoming a permanent resident in 1990.

20. In view of the record, the denial of Plaintiff's Application for Naturalization was arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, and inconsistent with the law. It reflects simple recalcitrance, rather than genuine consideration of the Application. The actions of Defendants in this case are substantially unjustified.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, in view of the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully prays that Defendants be cited to appear, and that upon due consideration, the Court:

- (a) consider Plaintiff's naturalization application de novo, as authorized by section 310(c) of the Act;<sup>30</sup>
- (b) enter an order approving Plaintiff's application for naturalization;
- (c) award Plaintiff reasonable attorneys' fees; and

(d) grant Plaintiff such other relief at law and in equity as justice may require.

Respectfully submitted,

DECISION

On August 1, 2006, you appeared for an examination on your Application for Naturalization, Form N-400, which you filed on June 24, 2004 in accordance with Section 316(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended. Pursuant to the examination of your application, it is determined that you are ineligible for naturalization for the following reason(s):

Section 316 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, states in pertinent part:

- (a) No person, except as otherwise provided in this title, shall be naturalized, unless such applicant,
- (3) during all the periods referred to in this subsection has been and still is a person of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States.

Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Part 316.10 states in pertinent part:

- (a) Requirement of good moral character during the statutory period.
- (2) In accordance with section 101(f) of the Act, the Service shall evaluate claims of good moral character on a case-by-case basis taking into account the elements enumerated in this section and the standards of the average citizen in the community of residence...
- (b) Finding of a lack of good moral character.
- (3) Unless the applicant establishes extenuating circumstances, the applicant shall be found to lack good moral character if, during the statutory period, the applicant:

- CASE # 15480
- (iii) committed unlawful acts that adversely reflect upon the applicant's moral character, or was convicted or imprisoned for such acts, although the acts do not fall within the purview of §316.10(b) (1) or (2).

USCIS records reveal that on or about January 15, 2004 you were arrested in Athens, TX for Alcoholic Beverage in Dry Area. A further review shows that on or about April 15, 2004, in Athens, TX, you were again arrested. You were arrested the second time for Prima-facie of Intent to Sell Alcoholic Beverages. In both cases you were found guilty and ordered to pay fines. Your convictions occurred during the statutory period during which you were required to demonstrate good moral character. This conduct does not represent the actions of the average citizen in the community.

Based on the foregoing, it is determined that you have not met the requirements for good moral character under Section 316(a)(3) of the INA and 8 CFR 316.10(a), (b) and (c) as cited above therefore, you are ineligible for naturalization. Accordingly, your application is denied.

If you desire to request a review hearing on this decision pursuant to Section 336(a) of the Act, you must file a request for hearing. You must file the request within 30 days of the date of this notice. If no request for hearing is filed within the time allowed, this decision is final. A request for hearing may be made to the District Director with the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services office that made the decision. ## DECISION

Pursuant to the investigation and examination of your application, it is determined that you are ineligible for naturalization because you do not meet the requirements of good moral character as described in Section 316(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

The record shows that you filed an Application for Naturalization, Form N-400, on September 8, 2005. On January 31, 2007, your application was denied for failure to establish eligibility for naturalization in accordance with Title Eight, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 316.10. Your Request for Hearing on a Decision Naturalization Proceeding Under Section 336 of the Act was filed timely.

On July 24, 2007, you appeared before a duly designated District Adjudications Officer of the Service concerning your request.

According to the record, you filed an Application for Naturalization, Form N-400, on September 8, 2005. During the five-year period in which you must establish good moral character, which began on September 8, 2000, you were arrested and convicted for two (2) offenses. The following list contains a summary of your arrests according to police reports and conviction documents.

Conviction Date	Place	Offense	Conviction/Results
05-15-2004	Henderson County, Texas	Alcoholic Beverage in Dry Area	1 day Jail time $1500.00 Fine
8-31-2004	Henderson County, Texas	Prima facie of Intent to Sell Alcoholic Beverages	1 day Jail time $2000.00 Fine

Section 316 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, states in pertinent part:

- (a) No person, except as otherwise provided in this title, shall be naturalized, unless such applicant,
- (3) during all the periods referred to in this subsection has been and still is a person of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States.

Title Eight, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 316.10 states in pertinent part:

- (a) Requirement of good moral character during the statutory period.
  - (1) An applicant for naturalization bears the burden of demonstrating that, during the statutorily prescribed period, he or she has been and continues to be a person of good moral character. This includes the period between the examination and the administration of the oath of allegiance.
  - (2) In accordance with section 101(f) of the Act, the Service shall evaluate claims of good moral character on a case-by-case basis taking into account the elements enumerated in this section and the standards of the average citizen in the community of residence. The Service is not limited to reviewing the applicant's conduct during the five years immediately preceding the filing of the application, but may take into consideration, as a basis for its determination, the applicant's conduct and acts at any time prior to that period, if the conduct of the applicant during the statutory period does not reflect that there has been reform of character from an earlier period or if the earlier conduct and acts appear relevant to a determination of the applicant's present moral character.
- (b) Finding of a lack of good moral character.
  - (3) Unless the applicant establishes extenuating circumstances, the applicant shall be found to lack good moral character if, during the statutory period, the applicant:
    - (iii) committed unlawful acts that adversely reflect upon the applicant's moral character, or was convicted or imprisoned for such acts, although the acts do not fall within the purview of §316.10(b) (1) or (2).

Your convictions, viewed in their totality, do not characterize the standards of the average citizen in the community of residence, reformation of character from an earlier period, nor do they reflect the behavior of a person of good moral character. Your actions show a disregard for the laws as demonstrated by a finding of guilt for 2 offenses within a five-year period. You presented letters from several acquaintances asking that consideration be given to you and your application for citizenship, but these letters do not outweigh your actions as demonstrated by your arrest and conviction history.

Your multiple alcohol-related arrests do not represent the conduct of an average citizen in the community.

Based on the above information, it has been determined that you do not meet the good moral character requirement of the Act. Therefore, in accordance with Section 316(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act and 8 CFR 316.10(a) and (b) as cited above, you are ineligible for naturalization. Therefore, your Request for Hearing on a Decision In Naturalization Proceedings Under Section 336 of the Act is denied.

This decision is without prejudice toward the filing of a new application for naturalization in the future, provided you met the requirements of Section 316 of the Act.

If you desire to request a review hearing on this decision pursuant to Section 310(c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, you must file a petition in the United States District Court having jurisdiction over your residence. The petition must be filed within 120 days from the date of this notice. If no request for review is filed within the time allowed, this decision is final.

Sincerely,

Tracy Tarango
Field Office Director

Adan Cerrillo is my father and I have no negative opinions of him. He is the most responsible person that I have known within my life. He has been there for me for 43 years and I still appreciate him for not giving up on those he loved and on life. He is an elderly person but he still stands strong and keeps his word. He broke the law in the past and perhaps his reasons will never add up to become an excuse, but he promised to never repeat that mistake and he has kept his word. I believe in him and I would sure appreciate it if you would try to as well.
